

and something to cherish. I am thankful that I will be only 2 ½ hours away living in Chicago while going to college and I plan on taking every opportunity to come home & spend time with my family whenever